The CQT Weapon System Difference

Weapon Systems uses the latest in engineering technology and materials to manufacture weapon systems that far exceed all military specifications.

The SNK Series utilizes super alloys in the manufacturing of the gas block, barrel nut, and gas tube, all of which reduces the thermal signature and increases heat dissipation during advanced heavy use. Inconel 718 allows the reduction of unnecessary weight without sacrificing performance and durability. CQT's drop in trigger assembly allows for superior reliability and maintenance.

The choice of Type 3 Anodizing or Cerakote® Elite finish gives CQT weapon systems the options of a multitude of colors that will last through the toughest of conditions and operations.
